

Professor Sandro La Vignera is a specialist in Endocrinology, PhD in Andrological Sciences. Holds current positions: Professor of Endocrinology (Catania University). National Scientific Qualification as Full Professor of Endocrinology (from September 2018). Awarded as Best Under 40 Researcher in 2017 by the Italian Society of Endocrinology. Included in the “Top Worldwide Scientists Database” in 2017, 2019 and 2020 by Plos Biology. Board Member of the Master of Reproductive Biotechnology of the University of Catania. Delegate for the Sicilian Regional Health Department for continuing medical education. Academician of the European Academy of Andrology (EAA). Treasurer of the Italian Society of Andrology and Medicine of Sexuality (SIAMS). Member of the Regional Executive Council of the Italian Society of Endocrinology (SIE) and Italian Society of Human Reproduction (SIRU). Member of the Editorial Board of “Scientific Reports-Nature”, “Journal of Clinical Medicine”, “Annals of Translational Medicine”, “Therapeutic Advances in Endocrinology and Metabolism”, “Expert Opinion on Pharmacotherapy”, “Frontiers in Endocrinology”, “Androgens: Clinical Research and Therapeutics”. Author of over 320 publications in indexed journals on Pubmed. Research-lines: “Endocrinological aspects of Reproduction and Human Sexuality”.